What we believe: Software should just run.

MANIFESTO

We believe developers should concern themselves with features and code quality, not servers and tooling.

We believe the infrastructure can and should be abstracted away.

We believe there is no enterprise software. Just software. That auditability, security, compliance, data protection and high-availability are fundamentals.

We believe you can move fast without breaking things, that software is change, and that fear of change can be overcome.

We believe that we know how to do this. That it's our job to make software just run. Everywhere.

" I can confirm, @platformsh is by far one of the best developer and hosting experiences I've made in my entire career so far! Always a pleasure to kick of a deployment or start a new project. "

" I know "deploy friday" as a slogan of @platformsh fits. Of course our deployment process could still be but we can really trust their infrastructure. Weekda consideration. We constantly deploy, including Frida would never have done that 5 years ago. "
