The image shows two side-by-side browser windows. The left window is a visitor's view of a website with a chat overlay. The right window is an agent's view of the same chat interface. The chat overlay in the left window shows a blue header with a speech bubble icon and a white body with a text input field. The agent's view in the right window shows a similar interface but with a blue header containing a profile picture and status, and a white body with a blue button that says "Hi, I need some help!". Below the chat area, there is a list of customer information including name, email, phone number, and address. At the bottom of the agent's view, there is a text input field and a "Send Message" button.
